3,500 Troops on Guard as Louisiana Picks Governor

FATE OF LONG MACHINE TO BE DECIDED TODAY

Brother of Kingfish, Opponent
Clash in Run-Off Primary,
Equal to Election.

(By United Press)
NEW ORLEANS—Louisiana picks a governor and settles the fate of the late Huey Long's political machine today while 3,500 National Guardsmen stand by to suppress disorders.

It is a Democratic run-off primary in which Gov. Earl K. Long, younger brother and heir of the assassinated "Kingfish," seeks re-election over Sam Houston Jones, a reformer whose ambition is to "run the rascals out" of office. Democratic nomination is equivalent to election in Louisiana.

The Long machine, crippled by federal indictments exposing fraud in public works contracts, graft in state departments, corruption in state institutions, and by reverses in last month's primary, faced a crucial test, with prospects for an extremely close vote despite the fact that the Long faction controlled the election machinery, the National Guard, and the New Orleans and state police.

In addition to the National Guard, which Long ordered in readiness to "combat any efforts to create disorders at the polls," the police force of New Orleans, dominated by Mayor Robert S. Maestri, stalwart of the Long machine, put 1,500 special armed men on poll duty.

These precautions were designed to off-set the mobilizing of a "Jackson Brigade," composed mostly of World War veterans, by former Governor James A. Noe, who is supporting Jones.

In the first primary, Jan. 16, Long polled about 40 per cent of the votes. The rest were divided among four opposition candidates, the leader of whom was Jones. He got the right to enter a run-off since Long had failed to poll a majority of the votes cast.

Noe was third high candidate and he later threw his militant support to Jones. In the Jan. 16 primary, Jones and Noe together polled a majority.

If their followers all backed Jones today, and Long was unable to increase his earlier vote, the "Kingfish's" machine will have come to the end of its 12-year reign.

It already had lost much of its control. In the Jan. 16 primary it reelected only 25 of 100 house members and nine of 39 senators.

The federal government is still investigating and prosecuting state officials for frauds in which the mails were used. Assistant United States Attorney General O. John Rogge also is investigating complaints of fraud in the Jan. 16 primary.

Battle To Save Life of Father Shot By Own Son

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Surgeons in St. Vincent's Charity hospital today fought to save the life of John C. Humpal, 56, WPA worker who, police said, was shot by his son, Clifford, 19, in an early morning argument.

Police said that Clifford, who walked to Central police station and surrendered shortly after the shooting, shot his father three times in the chest and once in the abdomen with a .22 caliber revolver he purchased yesterday.

The youth told police he returned home with a friend about 2:30 this morning and his father ordered him out of the house. In the argument that ensued, his father struck him several times, he said. Clifford then lost his head, pulled the gun from his pocket and fired four times at close range, police said.

PASSENGER CUT IN CAR CRASH

Butler Man Injured Early Today As Car Skids on Ice.

Glenn Bowman, 27, of Butler, suffered lacerations about the face in a two-car collision on route 13 in Belleville at 7 a. m. today.

Bowman was a passenger in a car driven by Harold E. Wharton, 30, of Butler, which collided with one driven by Clifford Seacrest, 52, R. D. 2, Belleville, at the north edge of Belleville, according to highway patrolmen.

Wharton told patrolmen Seacrest's car skidded back onto the highway, glancing off a tree, after failing to make a curve on the slippery road.

Vern Heiser, former Mansfield high athlete, received plenty of encouragement in his professional wrestling debut in the Army ring last night. Not only were a number of his erstwhile wrestling teammates of the Tiger wrestling at the ringside to root, but also his college coach, Stack Hall, world's light-heavyweight champion and assistant mat coach at Ohio State, where Vern was on the varsity two years, also appeared on the card last night. Incidentally, both Heiser and Hall won their matches.

Just to make certain that the flowers wouldn't be missing at last night's board of education meeting, first in the new John Simpson building, Supt. of Schools W. L. Miller bought flowers himself and placed a large bouquet in the center of the conference table. Asked by board members who they were from, Miller admitted he put them there and added that "they are a tribute to a real board."

The gorgeous and exotic cover on this month's issue of The Ladies Home Journal holds a familiar face for Mansfielders. The girl whose lovely face and hair are covered with frost and snow flakes is Dana Jenny, a former Mansfielder who is now one of the top photographers' models of America. The magazine cover is a colored photograph of Miss Jenny.

Louis Bromfield's dream of spending the remainder of the winter and all of the spring at his Malabar farm without interruption from Hollywood was rudely shattered Sunday when he received a telephone call from the film capital, practically ordering him back for a week or ten days' consultation with Charles Laughton for a screen play. Bromfield leaves within a few days for New York for a hurried business trip, then back to Cincinnati for a broadcast on the 27th, and then to Hollywood.

DIES AT AGE 51

Bert L. Feasel Was Employee of Street Department.

Bert Leroy Feasel, 51, of 188 Harker street, an employee of the city street department, died in the General hospital yesterday after a lingering illness.

Mr. Feasel was born in West Salem, June 7, 1888, and was employed at the Ohio Brass company prior to his appointment to the city street department in 1938.

Surviving are two sons, Jack and Merle at home; two sisters, Mrs. John McCuen of Mansfield and Mrs. Rose Liston of Ashland; a brother, Charles Feasel of Ashland, and two half-brothers, Gerald Imperio of Ashland and George Imperio of Mansfield. He was a member of the East Mansfield Presbyterian church.

Funeral services will be held at the Jones Memorial at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday with Rev. Smith Rose of East Mansfield officiating. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery. The body is at the Jones Memorial.

MRS. GREMLING DIES IN GALION

Widow, 80, Had Been Invalid 15 Years; Funeral Wednesday.

GALION—Mrs. Lucy Gremling, 80, widow of Lewis Gremling, died here early today. She had been invalid for the past 15 years.

Born Dec. 12, 1854 in New Richmond, O., she had lived southeast of here until recently when she came to Galion. She was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic church.

Surviving are a brother and a sister. Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Wednesday at St. Patrick's church with Rev. William Killoran officiating. The body will be placed in the mausoleum at Fairview cemetery. Friends may call at the Volk funeral home until time of service.

LOSS IN CANTON FIRE $250,000

Firemen Battle for Four Hours to Halt Flames Raging Near Public Square.

(By Associated Press)
CANTON—(AP)—Total damage was expected to reach a quarter of a million dollars in a fire that early today swept a three-story building and spread to nearby stores on North Market avenue, one block from the city's public square.

Firemen brought the flames under control at 2 a. m., nearly four hours after the blaze was reported.

Flames believed originating in the block-long building occupied by the F. W. Woolworth company destroyed that structure in less than two hours. Manager Frank Moore estimated loss in stock and fixtures at $100,000 and real estate men said the building loss would run $100,000.

An adjoining site housing the Darling shop, women's ready-to-wear store, and a three-story block to the north occupied by a McCrory five-and-ten-cent store also suffered heavy damage from fire, water and smoke.

All available firemen, including those off duty, were called into action to check the blaze. Flames leaped high into the air and could be seen over most of the city. Police battled to keep back a crowd of more than 2,000 persons attracted to the scene.

Explosions which firemen attributed to "back draft" sent smoke billowing over most of the downtown district.

Fire Chief George Jacob reported the cause of the fire as yet undetermined.

AERO UNIT SEES BIG YEAR FOR AIRPORT, URGES IMPROVEMENTS

Recommendations for improvements in Mansfield's municipal airport were before city council for consideration today.

Submitted by the airport committee of the Richland county chapter of the National Aeronautics association, the recommendations call for the rolling and seeding of the runways and beautifying the entrance with shrubbery.

The request for the improvements were contained in a two-page letter written to council by James R. Harrington, manager of the airport.

COUNTER CHARGE

Mrs. James Roosevelt Files Cross Suit in Divorce.

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Making her own bid for marital freedom, Mrs. Betsey Cushing Roosevelt today had on file a divorce cross-complaint against James Roosevelt, film producer and eldest son of the president.

Mrs. Roosevelt charged desertion, the same charge Roosevelt made last week in his complaint, and also alleged cruelty, declaring her husband had treated her in a "cruel and inhuman manner which caused her great mental suffering."

While giving no details of their separation, Mrs. Roosevelt declared that the couple have entered into a property settlement providing for support of herself and their two children, Sara Delano, 7, and Kate, 4.

The couple were married in Brookline, Mass., on June 4, 1930.

2 CITY FIRMS TO FURNISH OIL, ASPHALT, SLAG

Oil for Dirt Streets, Alleys to Cost Half Cent Gallon More Than Last Year.

Two contracts for a variety of street materials to be purchased during the current year were awarded by the board of control today, to two Mansfield firms, lone bidders on the supplies.

Largest of the contracts, that for road oil and repair materials, went to the Mansfield Asphalt Paving company which for the last three years has submitted the only bid on these supplies.

The other contract, for a variety of slag was awarded to R. O. Darling and son, also the lone bidder.

As the result of the new contract, the city will spend $328 more during 1940 for oil to lay dust on streets and alleys than it did last year, providing it uses the same amount of oil.

Last year the city used 74,714 gallons of oil which, at the contract price of 0.499 cents per gallon, cost $37,282.22. This year the contract price is .0543 cents per gallon, an increase of nearly half a cent which would cost the city $4,056.97 for the same amount.

Some Prices Lower.

Prices on the other materials however were in line with those paid by the city in 1939, some being a few cents lower than last year.

In addition to the oil, the contract calls for the delivery of 5,000 gallons of asphalt cutback to cost 10 1/2 cents a gallon, a half-cent more than last year; 100 tons of asphalt filler, $28 per ton; 2,000 tons of asphalt binder, $5 per ton; 200 tons Westphal, $6.50 per ton; 2,000 tons T-50 type "B," $5.50 per ton, 2,000 tons T-50 type "C," $5.75 per ton, and 2,000 tons of sheet asphalt at $7.50 per ton.

Darling's contract calls for delivery of 2,000 square yards of grade 1 and 2 slag at 65 cents per square yard at the quarry or $1.25 delivered and 2,000 square yards grade 3 to 9 slag at 78 cents per square yard at the quarry or $1.38 delivered. The city is allowed 10 cents discount per yard on the purchase of all quantities of 100 square yards at one time.

Four Nearly Lose Lives Trying to Save Fishing Shacks.

PUT-IN-BAY—(AP)—An attempt to save 20 fishing shacks nearly cost four men their lives in Lake Erie.

The four were driving over foot-thick ice near Rattlesnake island when their truck plunged through a crack into 30 feet of water.

Clifford Kirby, the driver, Lee Samsin, Robert Smith and Ed Kirby struggled free as the vehicle settled.

The four were attempting to find the shanties carried away by an ice break-up.

Funeral services were held in Cleveland yesterday for Dr. and Mrs. George J. Edam and their children, Barbara, 2, and George, Jr., 3, who were drowned near here as their car plunged through ice last week.

FAIR ENOUGH

NEW YORK—Nothing could be further from my intention than to doubt the word of such men as John Kieran, the professional know-it-all of the radio, and J. Otis Swift, who writes quiet things about the intimate affairs of little birds and squirrels. I just envy them, that is all.

Mr. Kieran knows the calls of all the birds, and when he goes out golfing he is always stopping and saying, "Well, a double-breasted junco; it's early for them," or "Last week I discovered a nest of Carolina duck-bills. You seldom see them this far north."

Do you happen to know that public park in St. Louis, across the street from the hotel where the ball clubs used to stop? Sometimes in the mornings we would go around the first nine, and Mr. Kieran would lag back. From a clump of shrubs would come a tiny creek.

Then he would smile and say, "I will bet you don't know what that was."

He knew the names of all the flowers, too, and even the weeds; and I have thought that if he were to grow an apostolic beard and hair down over his shoulders and pick out a bench in some park, the sparrows and pigeons would come and pick birdseed out of his lips.

—Advice—
Dancing on Surface, Not Living

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Is life like a dance?—and nothing more?
There are certain young people nowadays who seem to think so. A girl accepts a good-looking partner, whirls about with him for a year or two, then relaxes her interest as she sees somebody approaching who is even better-looking, even more magnetic, and who has the air of being about to cut in.

A few months later, after a couple of divorces, four young dancers—shall I call them?—have changed partners. Nobody has suffered. Nobody has sacrificed. Everybody is exhilarated. This is the second movement of the modern dance.

But can this really be marriage? you will ask me. Because in such a scheme of things, the most important part of marriage seems to be left out. What about love? Where does that come in? For love isn't gay, careless, on-and-off affair. It cuts deep. The truth is that sooner or later, love has to be taken into account. The dance halts, the music pauses, something has happened. Love has seized two of the dancers. And from the moment that they have been caught up into the heaven of their own particular joy, they have abandoned forever the frivolous and meaningless dance of those ignorant of love.

There is the case of Vivian, a girl I know personally. Vivian married. But marriage meant nothing in particular to her or to her rich young husband. They were a handsome pair, with no responsibilities and no children. They simply joined in the dance. After a year or two, they fell apart. Oh yes, there was another man. And another girl. A change of partners. That was all. But Vivian's was an extreme case. In a year or two more, she went through another divorce. And she had her third marriage.

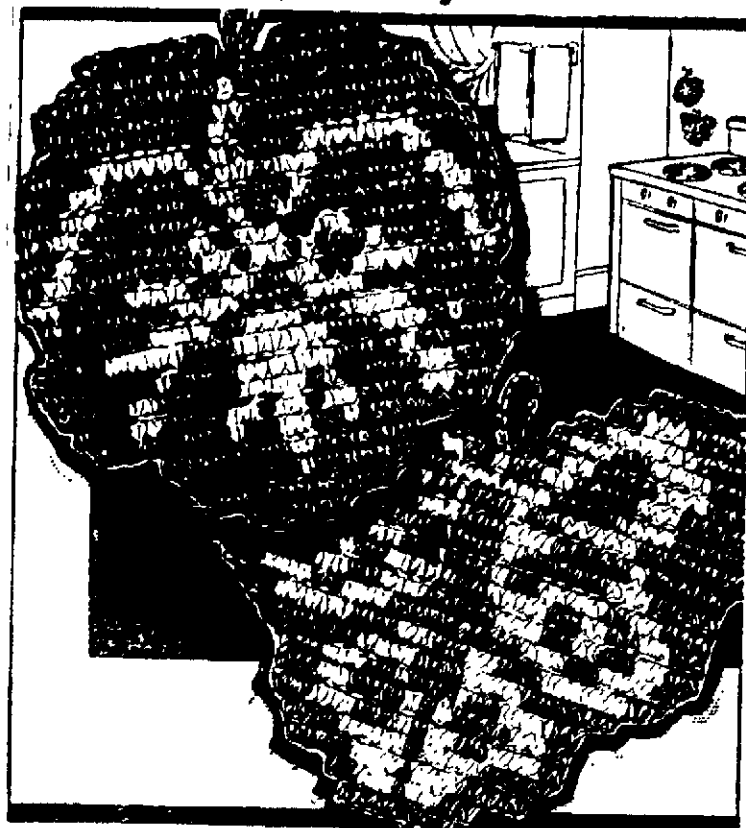

This time, it was different. But nobody knew. To her acquaintances, even to many of her friends, what had happened was that Vivian had a third partner. It was beginning to be a little hard to keep track of her changes of name and connections. But nobody minded. Vivian couldn't have told that at least she was married in the real sense. The people she knew wouldn't have understood, wouldn't have believed. She couldn't have explained that at last she knew love. To her, her husband was her universe. To him, she was a marvelous young divinity. Both felt that the years they had spent apart from each other were wasted. Both looked ahead to an eternity of love. It was, I am sure, a perfect marriage. And it lasted less than a year. Vivian's husband was killed in a motor accident. At twenty-eight, she is the most desolate woman I know, the most hopelessly lonely. Her friends do not understand her grief, as they did not understand her happiness. To them, she is a girl who is for the moment without a dancing

Marriage Meddlers

He followed our acknowledgment with an apparently casual inquiry as to the time we wished him to come over for the rehearsal. "I believe you named half past one," he said. There was distinct, malicious pleasure in my reply, for everybody knows how dearly he loves his sleep in the mornings. "I am sorry to have to change that hour," I told him hypocritically, "but my father has asked me to keep the afternoon free from visitors, while the present crisis lasts, at least. So I must set the date of the rehearsal in the morning so that we will be through before luncheon. You can estimate the duration of it better than I, so please choose your own time of starting."

He frowned portentously. "That will be a most inconvenient time," he commented while I inwardly gloated. "There is no possibility of your father changing his mind if he were properly approached?"

"I am afraid not," I told him. "I know I would not venture to approach him on the subject. But, of course, he would see you and listen to you if you wished to ask him to change the time of your coming. I must tell you, though, that he is most absorbed by his plan to capture Jack Leslie and his gang, and solve, if possible, the mystery of the whereabouts of Queen Olga's missing emeralds, so I fear even you would have little success in changing his mind."

"I should not think of asking him," he said hastily—there really was little else to say—"and as there is nothing else to do here, I think I shall bid you good-day." "Just a minute!" I interrupted. "I have a message for you." He looked at me attentively, with suddenly brightening eyes, and I saw that he guessed from whom the message came. "Queen Olga asked that you come to her suite for a few minutes before you go, if it is convenient."

Crowning Glory Can Be Difficult

By SIME QUI VIVE

Every woman eventually finds out that hair is temperamental. It has its good days and bad ones. There are times when it is angelic, falls into lovely wave lines, cuddles up into ringlets. And there are times when it acts like a small child having tantrums. It flattens down, hugs the scalp and sulks. It gets mischievous and looks like a pile of jackstraws. Why all the monkey business?

When a woman wails "I can't do a thing with my hair," don't laugh. She is having tress trouble. It is disturbing these days when locks won't show amiability, because the coiffures of the moment require exactness of pattern, perfection in every detail. One scolding lock drooping dismally at the nape puts a woman out of the beauty chorus. Undulations must be uniform and fluid, rolls smooth as satin. Hair shafts should glisten like the raven's wing.

Hair rebels against soaps that are too strong, against casual shampoos that are long on soap and short on rinsing. They won't stand up under the application of setting lotions that are heavy and gummy. See that your beauty operator uses a high grade cleansing medium, plenty of elbow grease, gallons of rinsing water.

This business of having one's head baked by a dryer for nearly an hour after every shampoo and finger wave isn't so good. Setting lotions can be found that dry quickly. To offset the effects of excessive heat, it is advisable to use brilliantine freely. You can rub it on the comb when arranging your silky mop, or you can apply it with an atomizer. We do not recommend it to the girl whose locks are excessively oily, but for the dries it is a wonderful help.

When getting a permanent wave, get the best that can be had. There is a difference in the lotions used. Timing must be right. If the last wave has not been satisfactory, insist upon a test curl. Don't have waves often—be necessary. Some hair grows at the rate of five or six inches a year. In that case it may be necessary to have a wave every four months, especially if the hair is short. Ordinarily two a year will suffice.

Sometimes hair is unruly because the wave pattern is not according to its natural inclinations. Give it its own way and it will be amiable. A clever, experienced operator will see at a glance the way tresses want to fall. If there is an upped undulation line where the glory crown doesn't want it, the line will vanish. Having the same operator each week, following the same design, will make for an undulation that will remain strong and clear cut from one treatment to the next.

Help the brain mat by frictioning the scalp now and then. Massage has a vitalizing effect upon the blood streams, upon which the little fuzzers live and thrive.

Dentists Banned From Advertising 'Painless Work'

PORTLAND, Ore., —(4NS)—No matter how painless a job is turned out at the dental emporiums, Oregon dentists were ordered not to advertise the fact along with other stringent regulations adopted by the state board of dental examiners.

The board experts can also no longer advertise in any shape or form: "If it hurts, don't pay," "professional superiority," "painless work" or describe their work as "reliable, modern, scientific, quality or dependable."

The board stated that the regulations would eliminate "unprofessional conduct" and would directly or indirectly affect approximately 900 practicing dentists in Oregon.

Child Should Become Self-Reliant

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph. D.

While some mothers don't do enough for their children, others do far too much for them, robbing them of self-reliance. It is very easy for any of us to cause our children to be over-dependent on us; and after we have so injured them we may grow vexed at the very traits for which we have been responsible. The following extreme case is an example.

"Dear Dr. Myers—I am hoping there is something I can do indirectly to help an 18-year-old boy, my brother's son, find his place in life before there is a tragedy.

"The boy's mother is one of those women with whom cleaning is a phobia. R. G. always was the best dressed boy at school. When he got his suit soiled, he would wait at his father's office until he could go home with him rather than face the situation alone.

Dressed, Bathed Him. "He has been so completely supervised that he never even dressed himself until recently, and believe it or not, a year ago she still bathed him the night before a crop of water if he had to do it. She has successfully destroyed every bit of initiative or self-confidence the boy should have. In fact, he has never had these characteristics; they were choked from the start.

"Naturally, he never developed any study or work habits. Now his parents constantly criticize him for not displaying any of these qualities they have destroyed. He has been failing consistently.

heart K, finishing with a trumped diamond. When West was in with the heart A, a diamond return would have spoiled declarer's timing by getting the diamond A out of dummy too soon. After South led to the heart J, he could not then have got back into dummy to use the heart K and so would have had to lose a diamond at the end.

ently in his studies, although his mind is O. K.

"Two weeks ago his cousin, who has been held up as an example to R. G. all these years, graduated from high school. R. G. wouldn't attend the graduating exercises.

Doesn't Understand. "His father fails to understand. He just harps on his faults and what a problem he is. Recently he said: 'I'm going to make R. G. finish his high school if it takes 12 years,' then added, 'Can you feature an 18-year-old boy standing around chewing his nails and wishing he were dead?'

"Poor boy! I could weep! Any little gutter snips or street arab has a better chance to cope with life than this 150-pound, six-foot boy. Yet, he has many possibilities, one of which is a talent for drawing which has never been stressed. He played the snare drum in the school band when not barred from the little pleasure because of low grades in his other studies.

"I hope that we may be able to do enough for R. G. to make him wish for something besides death."

"And I hope the suggestions I wrote her on how she might change the attitude of R. G.'s parents toward him will bear some fruit. Also I hope that many parents reading the foregoing letter will avoid the serious errors of the parents of R. G.

HOROSCOPE

For Wednesday, Feb. 21.

This day may bring the culmination of high ideals or exalted ambitions, judging by the lunar and mutual aspects. While the accent seems on social, artistic or romantic aspirations, there also may be creative efforts in intellectual or inventive lines. Tendencies to recklessness, quarrels or excesses should be suppressed. There are very strong indications for romance and marriage.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of fulfilled hopes and wishes. The higher forms of mental and creative expression are under inspirational stimulus, possibly leading to some novel accomplishment. Impetuous conduct should be avoided. Strong prospects point to courtship, romance, matrimony.

A child born on this day may have many ambitions and aspirations, with native talents and versatility to substantiate them—creative, original, inventive.

PRESENTS PROGRAM BEFORE STUDY CLUB

Mrs. Lester Redding Has Paper at Round Table Meeting; Coming Events Announced at Session; Tea Served.

MRS. LESTER REDDING presented the paper on "The Consumers' Movement" yesterday when members of the Round Table club had an afternoon meeting at the Women's Club with Mrs. W. P. Spencer as hostess. Mrs. Redding's paper dealt with the development of the consumer movement, the effects of advertising, and various phases of the marketing problem.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. C. C. Wagner, temporary chairman. Announcement was made of the series of open forum lectures which will be conducted under the auspices of the Catholic women of Mansfield beginning Feb. 26 at the Mansfield-Leland hotel, and the lecture to be given by Dr. Mary Harris under the auspices of the A. A. U. W. March 12 at the senior high school.

Current events were given by Mrs. John W. Cook after which Mrs. Jennie S. Abbott, house secretary, served tea to the members from the new silver service presented to the club by the Round Table. Mrs. Stanley Richardson presided at the table.

The March 4 meeting will be a 1 o'clock dessert party at the club with Mrs. Richardson serving as hostess.

Miss Stevick Opens Home For Social Event

Miss Virginia Stevick, 91 Linden road, opened her home to members of Zeta Rho chapter, Delta Theta Tau, last night for a social meeting. Miss Kay Baker served as the associate hostess. Contract bridge was played during the evening.

The prize was awarded to Miss Maxine Coffman. Refreshments were served by the hostesses at the small tables which were decorated with George Washington appointments. Arrangements were made to hold a business meeting March 4 for which the hostess will be announced later.

DANCE WEDNESDAY

The fourth dance in the second series of the Pandora Dance club will be held tomorrow evening at Schuler's Grosvenor from 9:30 until 12:30 o'clock. Nels Blocker and his orchestra will furnish the music for dancing.

CLUB HOSTESS

Mrs. Herbert Cline, Ashland, opened her home last night to members of the Charter Bridgers for a regular meeting. Winners at cards were Mrs. Gayle Coleman, Mrs. Albert Pittenger, and Mrs. Harold Treace. Members will be entertained March 4 by Mrs. Gerald Dudley, Crider road.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold, Trimble road, celebrated their 36th wedding anniversary Sunday with a family dinner at their home. The honored couple were presented with a gift by their children and grandchildren.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

Mansfield Lodge Will Initiate 20 Tomorrow Night

Members of the Mansfield chapter, No. 47 of the Women of the Moose will have public initiation services at the Moose home at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening. Twenty candidates will be initiated in honor of the state regents, Mrs. Lue Wille of Akron, who will be a guest of the evening.

The 23rd anniversary of the affiliation of the local chapter with the national organization will also be celebrated. A covered-dish dinner will be served before the evening's ceremonies, with daughters of the coworkers, under the direction of Mabel Ricker, in charge.

Mrs. Ethel Ferrell, newly elected senior regent, and Bertha Fischer, ritualistic chairman, will conduct the initiation. Chapters of the lodge from Gallon, Bucyrus, Mt. Vernon and Barborton have been invited to attend the services.

Miss Carrigan Gives Paper At Club Meeting

Mrs. Marion Down was hostess for a meeting of the Little Flower Study club last evening at her home on Heineman boulevard. The 12 members answered roll call by giving current events.

"St. Catherine, Lily of the Mo-hawks" was the title of a paper presented by Miss Nell Carrigan. Miss Edna Horning has invited this group to her home on West First street for the next meeting. A covered-dish dinner will be served at that time, with members of the program committee assisting the hostess.

POSTPONEMENT

The Buena Vista club meeting has been postponed from this Thursday to Feb. 29. Mrs. Florein Landis, Mifflin township, will entertain.

Mrs. Gordon P. Cloes and her children have returned to their home, St. Thomas, Ontario, Can., following a vacation here. They were visiting with Mrs. Cloes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Schneider, 10 Buffalo street.

For Quick Cough Relief, Mix This at Home

Saves You Much Money, and It's So Easily Mixed.
Here's an old home remedy your mother probably used, but, for real results, it is still one of the most effective and dependable for coughs due to colds. Once tried, you'll swear by it. It's no trouble. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar in 1 cup water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—a child could do it. Now put 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This makes a full pint of truly splendid cough medicine, and gives you about four times as much for your money. It keeps perfectly, tastes good, and lasts a family a long time. And you'll say it's really amazing for quick action. You can feel it take hold promptly. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep. Pinex is a compound containing No. 1 Pure and palatable, guaranteed concentrated form, well-known for its prompt action on throat and bronchial membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Mustard Shade New Fashion

A little mustard gives the spice to this casual spring costume, shown recently at a fashion show at the New York Ritz. It combines a mustard yellow sheer wool frock, alligator-belted, with a coat plaided in brown and dull blue over a mustard background. The leghorn hat is mustard too.

Fete Mrs. Rogers At Delta Theta Chapter Function

A "sweater and skirt" party was the entertainment for members of Delta Theta chapter of Delta Theta Tau sorority last night when Mrs. Ward Ingraham, West Third street, opened her home for a party honoring Mrs. Robert E. Rogers, the former Miss Genieve Diesem. Games were in play during the evening, and prizes, which were presented to Mrs. Rogers, were won by Miss Mary Cox, Miss Helen Bunn and Mrs. Norman Wolfe.

Mrs. Ingraham, assisted by Mrs. Homer Swift, Miss Harriett Roth and Miss Thelma Reed, served a "dutch" lunch at the close of the evening.

The sorority presented the guest of honor with a gift. A brief business meeting preceded the party with Miss Maxine Jones, president, in charge. The next meeting will be held March 4 with Mrs. Carl Adams, 160 Vennum avenue, as hostess.

Mrs. Benninghoff To Give Last Review Here

Mrs. W. E. Benninghoff, Cleveland reviewer who is well known to Mansfield audiences, will return to the city Feb. 27 for the final review in a series of three which she has given this winter under the auspices of the Women's association of the First Congregational church. The review, which will be given in the church auditorium, begins promptly at 2:15 p. m.

Mrs. Benninghoff will review "Children of God" by Vardis Fisher as her final selection. Single admission tickets may be had at the door preceding the review. Mrs. Benninghoff will return to Mansfield for an evening program on April 10 also. Mrs. John W. Graham, ways and means chairman, announced.

Prof. Hall Discusses Sibelius At Meeting

Prof. James H. Hall of the Oberlin Conservatory of Music was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Mansfield Music Study club which was held last night at the Women's Club with Mrs. John S. Jones serving as hostess. Because of the significance of Finland in world news today, Prof. Hall discussed Sibelius, Finnish composer, at great length.

Following a brief business meeting it was decided that members would continue the discussion of Scandinavian music at the March 4 meeting which will be held with Miss Anna Lois Dietrichson in charge at the music studio of Mrs. Margaret B. Hall and Mrs. Thirza Hazeltine in the Roth building.

Mansfield Seeks 11th Win Against Tigers Here Tonight

Massillon Mentor Guest of 'Coaches'

Paul H. Brown, head football and basketball coach of Massillon high school, and his assistants will be guests at the dinner meeting of the Downtown Coaches Association to be held in the Mansfield high cafeteria at 6 p. m. today.

Following the meeting the Mansfield-Massillon basketball game in a body. A section has been reserved for the coaches.

D. Osborne Meese will be the speaker at tonight's meeting and he will discuss the Mansfield Re-lyes.

Tygers Close Season

Beer and Gillom Expected to Stage Battle of Centers; Prelim at 7:15 P. M.

INDICATIONS point to a battle of the "centers" tonight on the Mansfield high gymnasium.

Massillon high moves into the Tiger fair to clash with Coach Vern Hoffman's cagers at 8:15 o'clock, and while fans are eager to see the Tygers triumph they will be watching the two pivot men constantly.

Mansfield's Russ Beer, towering pivot man, and Horace Gillom, high-scoring Massillon giant, are the two athletes.

Beer, who stands six feet, five inches, will hold a slight height advantage, and Beer will be trying to halt the Massillon star's scoring exhibitions.

It will be interesting to see if Gillom can grab rebound honors from Beer, who in practically every game has controlled the ball off the backboards.

Should Beer throttle Massillon's all-Ohio gridders the Tygers stand a fine chance of emerging Ex-Mansfield Business Manager Gets AA Post.

MINNEAPOLIS — (P) — Bob Evans, son of Billy Evans, former general manager of the Cleveland Indians, has been named public relations director and executive secretary in charge of the local office of the Minneapolis baseball club of the American association. Young Evans served as business manager of the Mansfield, O., Red Sox in 1937.

But not all rests in stopping Gillom. Chuck Buttermore, Tiger forward, is another youth Mansfield will have to keep an eye on. Buttermore, brother of Jack Buttermore, erstwhile Massillon star, now at Ohio Wesleyan, has been right on Gillom's heels in the scoring column in most of the games this year.

Incidentally, among the spectators tonight will be Jim Scott, Ohio Wesleyan cage coach, Jack Buttermore and Billy Rohr, another former Massillon great.

In the starting lineup for Mansfield will be Harry Phillips and Don Rose, guards, Gene Miller and Jack Shipleit at the forwards and Beer at center.

Moody will pair at the forwards with Buttermore, Gillom at the pivot and Getz and Kowell at the guard posts for Massillon.

A preliminary contest between the Mansfield Junior Tygers and the Massillon reserves will open the program at 7:15.

RED BIRDS RIP LIONS, BEARS WIN OVER RAMS

Trailing by a 9 to 4 count going into the second period, the Red Birds outscored the Lions, 15-4, and went on to eke out a 29 to 28 decision in a game in the Intermediate league at the Friendly House last night. The Bears edged the Rams, 17 to 16, in the other contest.

Hall Whips Foe to Retain Title; Mansfield Boy Wins In Pro Debut

SUCCESSFULLY defending his light heavyweight title in his second Mansfield appearance, Champion Stacy Hall decided to fight George Becker of New York in the feature match of the Quality club's wrestling program in the Armory last night.

However, chief interest in last night's card was held by Vern Heiser, former Mansfield high and Ohio State athlete, who made his professional debut.

Heiser gave a neat wrestling performance as he decided Ralph Akers of Flint, Mich., in the first bout on the card.

Akers, a test for any light-heavyweight, could not keep a grip on the slippery Heiser, and Vern finally wore him down and pinned him with a body smother in slightly less than 15 minutes.

A near-capacity crowd witnessed one of the cleverest exhibitions staged here in a long time in the main event. Becker continually had the champ in trouble during the first fall and it was due to his carelessness that Hall clamped him in the treacherous Figure 4 scissors to take the first fall. Becker showed all his class in this stanza and the champ had to wait until the right moment before he could clamp on his grip, which came after 14 minutes.

Becker discarded his fancy grips in the second melee, and went into the old-fashioned slam-bang tactics which stand the customers on their seats. He slammed Hall so hard and often the champ hardly knew he was in the ring, and finally Stacy found himself flying from one side of the ring to the other and in mid-ring Becker met him, turned him over in mid-air and flattened him with a body smother, all in about 6 1/2 minutes.

Determined to end the affair and take Hall's title in the same manner, Becker started the deciding heat with slams after slams and Hall was in about as bad shape as in the preceding fall, when Becker, attempting to again meet Hall in mid-air, suddenly found Hall wasn't there and he went head-first in to the corner, cracking his head on the corner post which set him back into the center of the ring with Hall atop to end the affair, all in less than 5 minutes.

"Heinie the Hun" made quick work of "Flash" Clifford in the semi-final match. He also made more enemies in this short while than the Masked Marvel has acquired in half a dozen appearances here, if that is possible.

"The Hun" gouged, choked and mauled Clifford into insensibility in about 12 minutes to take the first fall. In the second stanza, which also went to "The Heinie," the same tactics prevailed, all of which the fans could plainly see but which Referee Miller was unable to perceive, much to the chagrin of the customers.

"Bull" Marino knocked the Masked Marvel from the ring so hard and often the masked one finally gave up in despair and ran to his dressing room. The bout started quietly and cleanly, but soon the Marvel began his usual dirty tricks and it took "Bull" just about 3 minutes to end the matter after the dirty work began. The Marvel went over the ropes onto the quickly vacated ringside chairs, smashing them flat. Twice the Marvel came back only to meet the same fate, and finally gave up in despair and ran to his dressing room. "Bull," who previously had only been given boos for his shady tactics in past performances, last night was acclaimed Mansfield's hero, and the Marvel had his end of the purse withheld by R. J. Nichols, chairman of the Mansfield boxing and wrestling commission.

Purdue Concentrates On Wins, Not Points

Boilermakers Fail to Set Scoring Records, But Hold First Place In Big Ten.

CHICAGO — (P) — Purdue has reversed the procedure in this age of streamlined basketball offenses and is collecting dividends on the process, too.

While many other teams are concentrating on mass production of points, the pace-setting Boilermakers appear content to toss in just a few more than the opposition.

Boxers Must Have Traveling Permits

District amateur boxers planning to participate in the Marion A. A. U. tournament in March must secure traveling permits. Russell Gimble, district A. A. U. commissioner, announced today. The permits may be secured at the Friendly House from Gimble. Fighters from Ashland, Crawford and Richland county can also get A. A. U. cards from Gimble.

Johnny Risko Suffers Second Kayo of Career.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — (P) — Tony Musto, 197, of Chicago, knocked out Johnny Risko, 201, Cleveland in the third round last night, the second kayo Risko has experienced in his long career. Tony shook Johnny in the second with two smashing rights. The dazed Ohlona took another mauling in the third round, which ended abruptly when Tony placed a bone-crusher squarely on his chin.

CHUCK FENSK BEATEN OVER 1,000-YARD ROUTE

NEWARK, N. J. — (P) — Chuck Fenske of Wisconsin, was still the "mule of the year" today but planned to concentrate on his specialty for a while after a defeat over the 1,000-yard route in the 13th annual Seton Hall games.

In the program's feature, Sanford Goldberg of the Millrose A. A. won the 1,000 yard special by five yards over Fenske in 2:12.29. Sanford started with a five-yard allowance. Fenske shaded Gene Venzke of the N. Y. A. C. for second place while Glenn Cunningham finished fourth and last after being in the last lap.

TOLEDO BEATS WESTERN, HALTS LOSING STREAK

Toledo University's Rockets are back in stride in the Ohio Collegiate basketball race. They ended a three-game losing streak and posted their 10th victory of the season by stopping Western State Teachers of Maumee, 35 to 47 last night. The Rockets have lost only six games.

Select Church As President

Lee Church was elected President of the Richland Gasco Rifle and Pistol club at a smoker and dinner held at the Range quarters Saturday night.

Other officials elected are James Haspelagh, first vice-president; James Wheeler, second vice-president; Hobart Kyner, treasurer and Lee Arntz, secretary.

Shiloh Defeats Union, Faces Bellville Next

Drummer Boys to Meet County League Champs In First Game on Wednesday's Program.

WITH their heavy artillery still belching smoke from the bombardment unleashed on the Lucas high hardwood last night, the Shiloh high Drummer Boys are busy today leveling those field pieces at their next enemy when the Richland county Class B tournament moves to the Mansfield high court tomorrow night.

Shiloh's Twin-Valley league championship combine successfully disposed of its initial obstacle before some 600 fans last night by five, 43 to 29.

The Shiloh quint returns to action at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday at Senior high to tackle the Bellville Bluejays. Bellville, the Richland county league champion, possesses a potent scoring attack, and the Drummer Boys will have to be at their best to win. The winner of this setto will be one of the favorites to reach the finals.

Three other interesting tussles are on tap Wednesday. In the second game at 7:30, the Ontario Warriors play Plymouth, while Lucas battles Butler at 8:30, and Madison and Lexington perform in the last tilt at 9:30.

Survivors of these four contests will play in the semi-finals beginning at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at Senior high and the consolation and championship finals will be held Saturday night. The consolation affair opens the program at 8 o'clock.

Once the Drummer Boys sent their scoring machine into full speed last night there was not much doubt of the outcome. With LeRoy McFadden directing the fire, Shiloh hopped into a 15 to 6 advantage in the initial chapter and never lost the lead.

Coach Jim Hunter's Union cagers moved ahead, 4 to 2, in the opening minute of the tussle, but after Dean Dawson knotted the score with a fielder and added a free throw to give his teammates the edge Union couldn't overtake the winners.

Union, which has scored only one win this season, looked rather impressive in taking the rebounds from the winners, but was unable to locate the basket.

The Drummer Boys were leading, 25 to 13, at the intermission and 35 to 22 as play was resumed in the final chapter.

George Curry, Union's pint-sized guard, who was all over the court breaking up the Shiloh passing attack, dove into the brick wall under one of the baskets in the fourth frame and his teammates had to help him from the floor.

Curry, who led his club with 13 points, returned to the game to

Chuckle Corner

Things have been so quiet on the western front so that the correspondents have gotten around to referring to peace as "threatening."

The Japanese public is beginning to look coldly on the war against China we read. Maybe the fact that Japan's having an acute coal shortage may have something to do with it.

Eskimos no read rarely suffer from high blood pressure. Or increased taxes. There may be a connection.

SPECIAL ISSUES EXCEPTIONS TO LOWER MARKET

Possibility of Wars Spreading Turns Attention to Stocks With Military Connections.

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK—Stocks skidded slightly in an intermittent market today.

Slow dealings furnished mainly setbacks in prices, although a few specialties managed to struggle ahead.

Bonds were uneven. Commodities generally tended lower. Foreign markets continued to follow narrow, irregular courses.

Some commentators professed to see in the market's action proof the present slump in industrial activity has been discounted.

Possibilities the European wars may spread into the near east and broaden in Scandinavia engaged the attention of market men "shopping" for securities with a military connection.

The concentration of British and French troops in Egypt, Syria and elsewhere along the Mediterranean was interpreted as foreshadowing operations in that area.

As for the Scandinavian countries, Russian advances in Finland caused some observers to believe Sweden, Norway and Denmark could not maintain neutrality indefinitely.

REDS SURROUND FORT HELD BY FINN GARRISON

Viiupuri Threatened in New Soviet Advance Along Gulf Area.

niska, the railroads connecting south and west Finland as well as the main line from Helsinki to Lake Ladoga," the correspondent said.

Another Berlingske Tidende Stockholm dispatch reported today that the Russian 164th division was in a difficult position, with its communications cut, as the result of Finland's claimed annihilation of the 18th division.

Battle Rages at Kuhmo.

WITH THE FINNISH ARMY AT THE CENTRAL FRONT — (UP)—Fighting rages along a 20-mile front as the battle of Kuhmo enters its fourth week. Russian reinforcements were believed to have been rushed from the Soviet border to replace 1,800 casualties suffered in the first three weeks of fighting for the important crossroads town of Rastila.

Finn reported the capture of more booty.

The battle of Kuhmo has lasted so long for three reasons: Isolated groups of Russians trapped between the Lake Saunajarvi and Lake Isejervi have fought bravely; between 40 and 50 heavy transport planes daily drop ammunition for light arms to them; the Finns cannot afford to risk the loss of men in large numbers in a pitched battle.

MOSCOW —(UP)—An army communique said today that Russian troops, successfully developing their offensive in the Karelian isthmus, had taken two islands and two railroad stations in the process of clearing the Bjorkoe fortified area.

(The area is that on the Gulf of Finland which includes Koivisto island, heavily fortified and the anchor of the Finnish Mannerheim line's right flank.)

BULLETIN
LONDON — (UP) — Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the house of commons today that it was "difficult to resist the conclusion" that Norway in the Altmark incident had been inconsistent in her duty "as a neutral" and "displayed complete indifference" as to the use that the German fleet might make of Norwegian territorial waters.

LONDON — (P) — The British looked today to Prime Minister Chamberlain in the house of commons to point the way out of the impasse with Norway over Great Britain's demand that the German prison ship Altmark be interned.

Far from granting the British request, Norway has called on the London government to return between 300 and 400 British seamen released from the Altmark last Friday night in Norwegian territorial waters by a boarding party from the destroyer Cossack.

Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvdan Koht declared last night before a special session of the Oslo parliament that nothing in international law prohibited a belligerent from conveying prisoners through neutral waters if the passage of the ship itself were legal.

This was a direct refusal to acknowledge the legal basis offered for the major point of Britain's protest against the passage of the Altmark and the demand for her internment — that Norway failed in her duty as a neutral in not having ascertained that the Altmark was carrying prisoners of war.

Koht assailed the British for the incursion, terming it in "open conflict with principles which it (his majesty's government) has itself so often proclaimed" and added that Norway might take the case before the League of Nations "or some other tribunal."

BERLIN — (P) — The statement of Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvdan Koht regarding the Altmark incident has been received by the German foreign office with great satisfaction, authorized sources said today.

OSLO — (P) — Informed Norwegian circles indicated today the government would permit the German ship Altmark to leave Norway's territorial waters when the Germans desire.

BANS EXPORT

Rumania to Keep All Aviation Gas for Own Use.

BUCHAREST — (P) — The Rumanian government today issued a decree prohibiting exports to any country of high-grade gasoline for aviation use.

It was understood the new measure means that any oil coming within export quotas to foreign countries can be exported only in its crude state.

NEW CABINET SHAPES UP
BAGHDAD, Iraq — (UP) — A new government, headed by Rashid Ali Gailani as premier was expected to be formed tonight following resignation of the cabinet.

SPY SENTENCED TO DEATH
LILLE, France — (UP) — Karl Schenckens, 26, a German was sentenced to death by a military tribunal today as a spy.

GLORIA'S 16

Vanderbilt Heiress to Mark Birthday Quietly at School.

NEW YORK — (P) — Gloria Laura Morgan Vanderbilt is 16 today — nearly the age at which her beautiful mother was married.

But young Gloria, heiress to $4,000,000 and the coming star of her generation of Vanderbilts, has two years to go before her formal entrance into the social whirl in which the elder Gloria, barely 16, met the late Reginald Vanderbilt, dashing sportsman.

Gloria is now in a private school at Providence, R. I. Her plans for observing today's birthday anniversary were guarded closely by the school.

WORST WEEK

Britain Suffers Heaviest Loss of Shipping.

LONDON — (P) — British authorities asserted today that last week's British and neutral shipping losses were the heaviest of the war, but said that four German submarines "were definitely sunk" and two others were believed destroyed by the British navy or air force during the week.

The admiralty listed five British and 15 neutral ships as lost during the week ending Sunday with a total of 86,077 tons, surpassing the previous high mark of 78,193 tons set in the second week of the war.

The London Evening News reported that German bombing planes machine-gunned the decks of four British travelers in the North sea yesterday but failed in attempts to bomb the ships. British fighting planes were said to have chased the Germans away.

OPENS 15 BIDS

School Board to Act Tonight on Recreation Bonds.

Meeting in special session at noon today, the Mansfield board of education opened 15 bids on $23,000 worth of bonds to finance the purchase of 21 lots for playgrounds at Senior high and John Simpson junior high schools.

The board, however, deferred action on selling the bonds until tonight when it will hold another special meeting.

The school board had acquired title to seven of the lots today, buying three from Edward S. Flaherty, one from Oscar and Anna Chronister and Edward W. Brickner, and one each from Hazel F. Koppes, Clay H. Imhoff, and Frank L. Yarger.

Others were to be purchased this afternoon and tomorrow, John H. Eisaman, clerk of the board, said following today's meeting.

Cost of the 21 properties will be approximately $20,000. The lots will be made into tennis courts, ball diamonds, football practice fields, and playgrounds for smaller pupils.

HUNT WOMAN IN REPORTED VODOO MURDER OF DAUGHTER

MONTEBELLO, Cal. — (P) — Spurred on by neighborhood reports their quarry is a member of "a voodoo church that believes in human sacrifice," police today combed southern California for Mrs. Betty Hardaker, 25, wanted for questioning in the murder of her five-year-old daughter, Geraldine.

Geraldine's body was found late yesterday in a women's rest room in Montebello municipal park. Her head had been crushed and her body was scratched and bleeding.

Mrs. Hardaker, only recently released from a San Diego, Cal., mental institution, disappeared after the child's battered body was found.

Police said they were informed by neighbors that Mrs. Hardaker and her estranged husband, Charles, an automobile worker, belong to a mysterious cult that believes "God tells them to kill people." Hardaker was taken into custody and lodged in an undisclosed jail for questioning.

While authorities were inclined to discount the possibility of a voodoo murder, they said the wide reports about the cult necessitated the closest investigation.

SLIGHT DELAY

Cage Game Halted With Score Tied to Hunt For Tooth.

COLUMBIA, Mo. — (P) — The score was 17-17 late in the second half.

Louis Snyder, forward on the Central Dairy basketball team, asked for time out. He had lost a detachable tooth.

Officials, spectators and players hunted high and low. Five minutes later Snyder found the tooth himself.

Play was resumed, but the laymen lost to the NYA 24-20.

Dem Leaders Expect He'll Go Into Ohio Primary for Roosevelt.

Nutt, however, explained that he would not enter any primary in which President Roosevelt participated or in which a candidate supporting a third term was running.

The idea of Ohio Democratic leaders had been to pledge the state delegation to Donahy with the understanding that it would back the chief executive in the event he sought renomination.

The president himself is not expected to enter the Ohio race, because the state law requires that candidates sign a certificate saying they will accept the nomination. Such procedure would be formal notice that Mr. Roosevelt was willing to run again.

Garner managers were conferring on procedure for entering the vice president's name in Ohio. He already has arranged to participate in the primaries in Illinois, Wisconsin, Oregon and California —and in Georgia, if one is ordered by the state Democratic committee.

Garner's friends generally were elated over Donahy's declaration, which they interpreted as a sign that he does not favor a third term. Senator Burke (D., Neb.) told reporters:

"Good for old Vic! I hope Garner will go into Ohio and all the other primaries."

FARLEY BOOM GAINS

HARTFORD, Conn. — (P) — The Farley presidential boom gathered momentum today with the conditional addition of Connecticut's delegation of 16 to the Democratic national convention.

The Connecticut delegation was pledged to Postmaster General James A. Farley by David E. Fitzgerald, Democratic national committeeman, on the condition that Mr. Roosevelt will not seek a third term.

Connecticut was the second New England state to swing to Farley. The Massachusetts delegation of 34, pledged solidly to Farley, was entered unopposed last week in the Democratic primary there.

Provided that Mr. Roosevelt does not announce for a third term, Farley will go to the convention with the votes of virtually all the New England states. It was predicted in political circles, plus the votes of other states in other sections where he is strong.

TAFT COMMENDS DONAHEY

WASHINGTON — (P) — Sen. Robert A. Taft, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, today commended Sen. Vic Donahey, his Democratic colleague, for refusing to be Ohio's "favorite son" candidate to the Democratic national convention in name only.

The Democratic state organization is pledged to President Roosevelt, if he runs.

"Senator Donahey took the only position that a self-respecting man could take," Taft said.

DROP GASOLINE PRICE

TOLEDO — (P) — Regular gasoline sold by the Standard Oil company of Ohio in Toledo dropped to 14 1/2 cents per gallon today after other companies reduced from 16 to 15 cents yesterday in the city's latest gas war. "A spokesman for the Standard Oil company headquarters in Cleveland said that the reduction was confined to Toledo."

ioned around what Miss McFarland terms the most neglected meal of the day—breakfast. "Life Begins At Breakfast" is certain to give some new ideas to women who are tired of the fruit-and-toast type of breakfast.

The Ohio stage will be set up, as a model kitchen for Miss McFarland's institute session, and after the dishes are prepared and garnished, they will be displayed, with the aid of mirrors on the stage.

The Gasco Food Institute has built up a reputation as one of the outstanding homemaking events of the year in Mansfield and always attracts large attendance. This is the fifth consecutive year that the institute has been brought here by the Gas company. The News-Journal and merchants, and housewives have learned to look forward to it as providing a new note at the "tag end" of the winter cooking.

Each day's session will begin at 9.15 and will end in time for women to prepare luncheon at home.

BARRYMORE GETS DUN FOR $11,000

Must Pay $2,550 Per Month On Old Divorce Settlement.

NEW YORK — (P) — John Barrymore had a new obligation today — a matter of $2,550 a month which he must pay to his third wife, M. Dolores Costello Barrymore, to catch up on his back divorce settlement payments.

Barrymore agreed in an out of court settlement to pay $2,550 a month to catch up on $7,500 which he is arrears on his agreement to pay $850 a month for the support of their two children, John Barrymore, Jr., and Ethel Jane Barrymore.

After this $11,000 in obligations is cleared up, Barrymore's payments will drop down to the usual $850 a month. The actor is now receiving $3,000 a week in a Broadway show.

ALLOTS $4,800 IN RELIEF FUNDS

State Grants to Meet 40 Per Cent of City and County's January Expenditures.

A total of $4,849 was allocated today to Mansfield and Richland county as the state's share of direct relief funds for January.

Although the state-wide allocation amounted to $1,000,733, largest in two years, it represented only 40.2 per cent of the month's relief expenditures, state relief officials said.

The city and county must make up the difference between their total relief costs of $12,038 and the state allocation. Shelby, which is in a special relief district, received $433 from the state.

An increase of $485,196 in the state relief costs for last month was blamed on the curtailment of WPA work because of the cold weather and the necessity for more direct aid for unemployed workers with families. The total cost for the month in Ohio was $2,483,647. Oakwood, near Dayton, and Grandview, suburb of Columbus, had no relief bills for January.

State allocations to other cities and counties in the Mansfield area included:

Ashland county, $2,119; Crawford county, $812; Holmes county, $879; Huron county, $1,833; Morrow county, $705; Bucyrus, $1,629; and Galion, $674.

CHAPTER XXX

IT WAS a gay party at the officers' mess at the air field near Metz later that morning. Bill Cameron had exchanged his Nazi uniform for one of horizon blue lent to him by the commandant who was about his size. Rene was resplendent in his own uniform, although the effect was somewhat spoiled by the fact that one arm was in a black silk sling.

The post doctor had examined his wound, said it was healing nicely and complimented Cameron and Claire on the manner in which they had treated it.

"A month's rest, plenty of good food, and Rene will be as good as new," he said cheerfully.

The commandant's wife had managed to make Claire fairly presentable in one of her gowns, and although she was a bit larger than the American girl, some skillfully placed pins had accomplished wonders in making the dress fit.

The three of them ate ravenously, their first good meal in days, and afterwards, over cigarettes, Rene insisted on recounting for the benefit of the commandant and members of his staff Bill's exploit in stealing the Nazi plane. It was nearly noon before they could escape from their hosts. Then a staff car and driver were put at their disposal to take them to Paris.

Rene considerably sat with the chauffeur, leaving the back seat to Claire and Bill.

"First, I must get in touch with Washington to report my whereabouts," Cameron said, his arm about Claire, and then you and I are going to call upon the maire of the First Arrondissement."

"Why in the world should we call on the mayor?" Claire asked, snuggling closer to him.

"How else can we be married immediately? That's what we want, isn't it, dear?"

For answer, Claire put her lips up to him.

The car dropped Cameron at the American embassy to make a full report to the ambassador, and then at the Ministry of War to let Rene out. He, too, had a report to make to his superiors.

A few minutes later Claire was stepping to the sidewalk in front of her hotel and not long after that was luxuriating in her own bath, and getting into her own clothes.

It was five o'clock when Bill phoned that he was waiting in the lobby and that they had an appointment in fifteen minutes with the mayor in the Place du Louvre.

"We'll walk," he said as he greeted her in the lobby. "We can stop on the way and get a ring and some flowers. I'd like to get your engagement ring at the same time, but that's a matter that requires time and thought. Do you suppose you could wait to select it in New York day after tomorrow?"

"New York? Day after tomorrow?" she echoed.

"Yes, I talked with the chief on the transatlantic phone. We're to leave tonight by plane for Lisbon to make the Clipper for New York. We'll have time to do some shopping there day after tomorrow, and then take the train to Washington. When I explained that we were getting married, the chief decided he could give me a few hours off before I had to report. Later, we'll take a couple of months and go to Florida or California, or wherever else you want to go."

They turned out onto the Rue de Rivoli.

"How does that sound to you, darling?"

"If we weren't right out here in the street with hundreds of people looking on, I'd kiss you, Bill Cameron," Claire answered.

"Don't let that stop you. The French people don't mind—they understand such things."

So right in the heart of one of Paris' most brilliant shopping districts, a tall young American took a very pretty American girl in his arms and thoroughly kissed her before they walked on, hand in hand.

At the Mairie, they found Danny Brooks, Maria, Julie Roland, Welles Sanford, Captain Rene Martin and M. Bornet, the latter considerably crestfallen over his false identification of the body of William Cameron.

Claire had asked Danny over the phone to get in touch with Noel Yorke and invite him. She looked around but he wasn't there.

Julie Roland apologized for the absence of her husband.

"He'll be sorry to have missed this," she said. "But he's away in the country. I don't know just when he will return."

If she knew what Claire and Bill and Rene knew—that he never would return to France—she didn't betray it and the girl wondered whether she realized the dangerous game her husband was engaged in. Maria seemed serenely self-possessed, although Claire thought she detected a worried expression about her eyes.

Was Maria a spy? Julie, too? What a strange thing to stand up here with two enemy agents looking on while the French official pronounced the words of the civil ceremony that made her Mrs. William Amherst Cameron!

After a flurry of congratulations and good-byes, they hurried back to the hotel to pack for the long journey. Cameron, who had recovered his bags at the embassy where they had been returned from the St. Croix, volunteered to help Claire.

"I have unpacked only one bag," he said. "We'll have to send most of our things by boat as the baggage will be limited on the Clipper."

The door of Claire's room was ajar and she had a momentary feeling of panic as he was certain she had looked it when she left. But with her husband to give her courage, she pushed the door boldly open and walked in.

Noel Yorke arose from a chair, smiling at them, and extended his hand.

"Congratulations, Claire, on everything," he turned to the man. "This is William Amherst Cameron, I presume. I am Noel Yorke, otherwise known as 'Z. Y.' Claire may have mentioned me to you."

"Oh, yes, indeed," Cameron shook his hand heartily. "Thanks to you, we're both here, happily married and about to leave for home the fastest possible way."

"Congratulations, again, to both of you. You found Frau Weber—er—cooperative?"

"A masterpiece of understatement," Cameron laughed. "I hope neither she nor her daughter suffered as a result of us."

"Not at all—they completely escaped suspicion after their place was searched, and as I understand it the same arrangements are to be carried on indefinitely. They are very valuable allies."

Claire took the key "Z. Y." had given her and handed it back.

"It proved very useful. I suppose you'll keep on with this work?"

"Tonight 'Z. Y.' disappears forever—and the records will show that he was shot by a firing squad at St. Cyr as a spy—an enemy of France."

"But—but Mr. Yorke—you don't mean..." Claire gasped, her face pale from the shock of his words.

"Your interest is very flattering," he said, with a faint smile. "I didn't intend to frighten you. But it is true that I will face a firing squad tonight—and there will be some one else with me—a beautiful woman. Some one you know."

"Maria?"

"Yes. We have unmistakable proof of her guilt. She had been working hand in glove with Roland. How many lives the two of them have cost France, we'll probably never know. She must die."

"But you?"

"The enemy must think I died, too—but the guns aimed at me will contain blanks. 'Z. Y.' will be gone, but I will live on—under some new identity, with my appearance considerably changed. There still is much work to be done."

"Does Rene—Does Rene know?"

"Yes—he has been told. It almost killed him to learn of Maria's treachery, but he is reconciled. He knows it is the only solution. He is being sent to a hospital in the south of France for a month or two to recuperate from his wound—and, if possible, his broken heart."

"Poor Rene," Claire mourned.

"He loves her so much."

"But this is war, Mrs. Cameron." Noel Yorke arose.

"Thank goodness, Bill is taking me away from it." The girl turned to her husband with outstretched arms.

The End.

BOARD HIRES 10 TO COMPLETE SCHOOL STAFFS

Employs Teachers, Janitors, Secretary and Matron to Fill Vacancies.

Three teachers, five janitors, an office secretary and a building matron were employed last night by the Mansfield board of education to complete the staffs at the new John Simpson and Johnny Appleseed junior high schools and fill vacancies at other schools resulting from the shifting of employees.

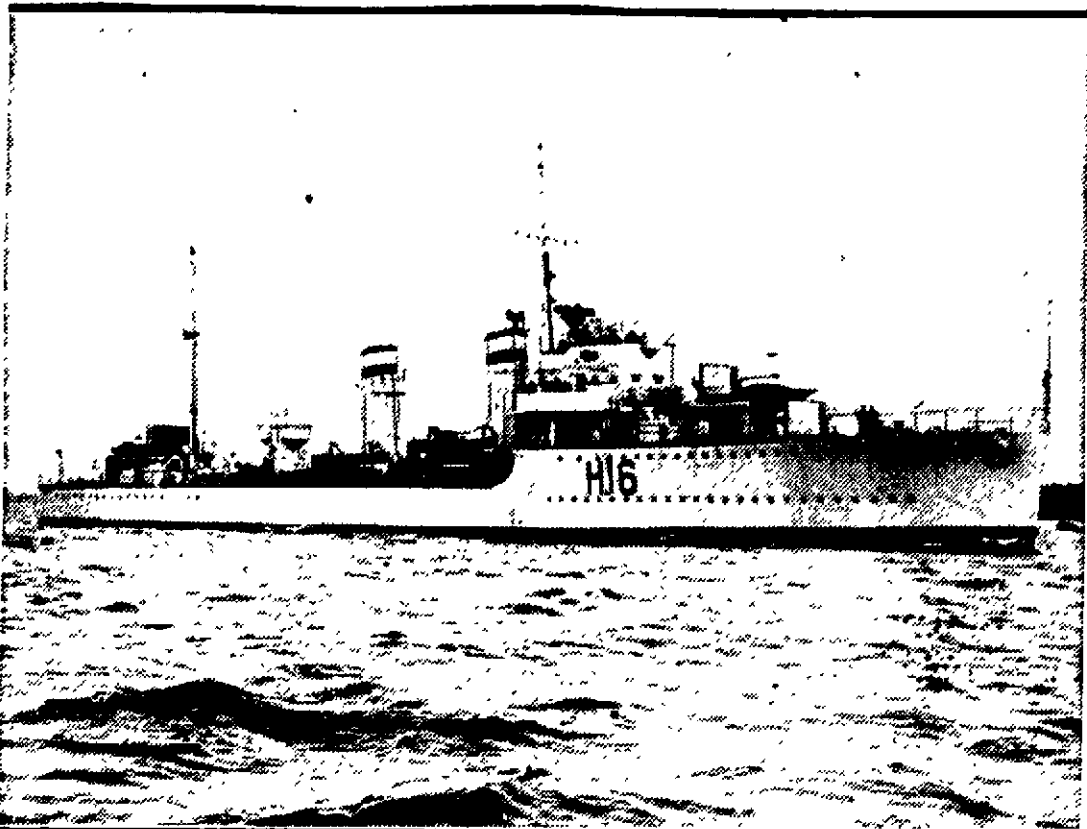

Named to the teaching posts were Mrs. Mary E. Hien, home economics instructor at the Johnny Appleseed building; Mrs. Phyllis Morgan, teacher in the deaf school, and Mrs. Ruth Workman, teacher at the Bowman school.

Mrs. Morgan will replace Mrs. Josephine Singleton who resigned to be married, while Mrs. Workman's appointment fills a vacancy caused by the transfer of John Bell from the Bowman to the Bushnell school.

Miss Virginia Palmer was employed as secretary at the Johnny Appleseed building to succeed Miss Norma Johnston who resigned to take another job.

Picked From Eligible List.
Employed from certification lists provided by the Mansfield civil service commission were five janitors for the two new buildings and a matron for the Johnny Appleseed school.

Hired as janitors were Elsie P. Cook, 38 Rowland avenue; Raymond A. Hayes, 11 Sheridan avenue; Robert W. Dunn, 474 Cline avenue; Fred A. Thierlein, 249 Rowland avenue, and Elza L. Murray, 29 1/2 Fair street.

Mrs. Ethel Irvine, 82 Sheridan avenue, was appointed matron at the Johnny Appleseed building on a 10-month-per-year basis.

The board granted Supt. W. L. Miller permission to attend the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators in St. Louis from Feb. 24 to Feb. 29.

The Junior Association of Commerce was granted the use of the Senior high school auditorium for its annual amateur boxing show the nights of March 25, 27, and 29.

BUSINESS MEN, FARMERS MEET

Discuss Agriculture Situation at Dinner Meeting Tonight at Baptist Church.

Richland county farmers and business men will discuss the farm situation at a dinner meeting at 7 p. m. today in the Park Avenue Baptist church.

Sponsored by the county agricultural conservation committee, the meeting is designed to promote a better understanding between farmers and business and professional men, G. L. Taylor, chairman of the county AAA committee said.

Speakers will include Elmer F. Kruse, Columbus, AAA chairman in Ohio; Sherman Wentz, manager of the Lexington branch of the Mansfield Savings Trust National bank; Emmett Hershey of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, and Jesse T. Beer, principal of Mansfield Senior high school.

Kruse will talk on "Agriculture—Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," while the other speakers will give the business, industrial and consumer's views of the farm picture.

Each of the 90 township AAA committee members in the county has invited one business man to attend the session. Music will be provided by Grier's band.

Milk and DAIRY PRODUCTS

Will Be Used Exclusively In The

GASCO COOKING SCHOOL

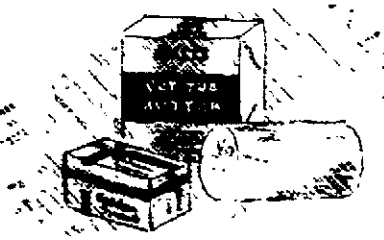

Proof of Isaly's Dairy Food superiority lies in their selection by Miss Louise McFarland for all her demonstrations in the Gasco Food Institute, at the Ohio Theater, this week. Attend each session... learn new recipes and interesting food facts. Then follow Miss Louise McFarland's instruction and use Isaly's finer dairy foods in your home, always.

AT EACH SESSION MISS LOUISE MCFARLAND WILL MAKE DEMONSTRATIONS WITH THOSE HIGH QUALITY ISALY'S DAIRY FOODS.

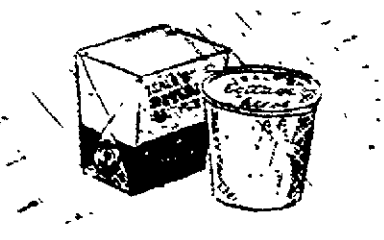

Isaly's Grade A Milk & Cream—

Look for the gleaming cellophane hood. It identifies Mansfield's finest milk and cream. Produced by Mansfield's best farm producers... perfectly pasteurized. Then too, Isaly's Mansfield Pasteurized Milk Council Membership is your assurance of higher quality.

Isaly's Fresh Churned Butter—

Churned daily in Isaly's modern plant and brought to you hours fresher. Use it for all your cooking and table needs. You too, will like it's finer flavor and wholesomeness. Each week-end, Isaly's feature their higher quality butter at low week-end prices. Be wise... buy a week's supply then.

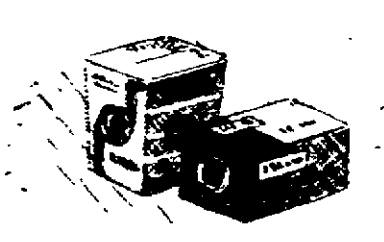

Isaly's Healthful Cottage Cheese—

A tender flaky, delicious milk food that really tastes good and is good for you. Now that Lent is here you'll find many ways to use it for those hard to prepare Lenten meals. Use it in main dishes, salads and with other foods. Take your choice of the plain or already creamed.

Isaly's Creamed Buttermilk—

A real health beverage. Good with meals or at any time in the day. Nourishing but non-fattening. Isaly's enrich it to a smoother tastiness with additional cream. Lots of folks buy it by the gallon because it's more economical. Keep some in your refrigerator, too.

Isaly's Delicious Ice Cream—

The high spot of any meal, luncheon or banquet is the serving of Isaly's Ice Cream. Isaly's are Dairy and Ice Cream Specialists, which accounts for the higher quality. Greater variety in over 20 flavors and two popular ice cream features, which you always find where Isaly's Ice Cream is sold. Enjoy it at the fountain... and in your home... often.

AFTER SCHOOL... IT'S ISALY'S FOR LUNCH!

Just a few steps from the school and school there are three convenient Isaly's Dairy Stores. Stop in for a variety of delicious foods for a delightful lunch. It will be very convenient for you, and the tempting luncheons your Isaly's Stores have planned for Cooking School Days.

WARS CAUSE BIG TRADE LOSS FOR SCANDINAVIANS

Neutral Nations Chalk Up Unfavorable Trade Balance of $316,000,000.

(Editor's Note: Following is the second of three dispatches explaining effects of the European wars on the Scandinavian countries.)

(United Press Correspondent) COPENHAGEN, DENMARK—Europe's wars sent the unfavorable trade balance of the Scandinavian nations up to $316,000,000 for 1939 and made Soviet Russia a key to future developments in northern neutral states.

As a result of the red army invasion of Finland, observers believe that Russia may be a new bidder for division of Swedish, Norwegian and to a minor extent Danish markets with Germany in the future. The question, of course, depends upon outcome of the war in Finland and the development of the Nazi sea war with the allied powers.

But although Scandinavian products are similar to those of Russia, the Soviet union needs still greater supplies for internal consumption and a market for export of grains and fuel in exchange for machinery and iron ore. Germany's interests in Scandinavia are more concrete because iron ore, largely from Sweden, is the foundation of German heavy industry.

In any event, competent neutral observers regard the Scandinavian countries as involved in the first field of action in Europe's economic struggle as shown by recent trade and financial figures.

Significant statistics on imports and exports for the last two years showed that while the unfavorable trade balance increased in 1939 by about $138,000,000, or 72 per cent, over 1938, by far the largest share of the increase came after the start of the war.

Norway and Sweden, busily accumulating reserve stocks of gasoline, crude oil, and coal since the international crisis became acute, suffered the greatest trade losses, but proportionately the Danish unfavorable balance as well as nearly doubled.

The price each country must pay for the war in which it is neutral breaks down in each case to a chart of soaring imports and exports which, while still above 1938 levels, declined in the late months of last year.

Norway, with the fourth largest merchant fleet in the world, surpassed only by Great Britain, the United States, and Japan, found its imports increased by 169,000,000 Norwegian crowns, from 1,192,000,000 crowns in 1938 to $361,000,000 in 1939, while exports increased only 22,000,000 crowns to 808,000,000. Thus the trade ledger showed a losing balance of 553,000,000 crowns, or about $138,000,000, up 17,000,000 crowns from 1938.

Sweden presented a similar but more drastic picture. There, the unfavorable balance was more than doubled in 1939, rising $88,000,000 to a net trade loss of $145,000,000 for the year. While Sweden's imports jumped from 2,081,000,000 Swedish crowns to 2,488,000,000, her export trade rose only 36,000,000 crowns to 1,879,000,000 with the profitable carrier trade to Germany almost non-existent at year's end and trade with France and England hampered by submarine, airplane and mine.

Denmark's losses in trade were only 167,000,000 Danish crowns for the year, with the Danish crown furthermore showing the lowest value of the three monetary systems.

Denmark imported more heavily than Norway, bringing in goods valued at 1,742,000,000 crowns, but kept her exports well above Nor-

STALIN EATING OWN WORDS ON FINN INVASION

Russian 'Bible' Shows He Held View Finland Must Remain Free.

(By Associated Press) MOSCOW — Comrade Joseph Stalin appears to be in a fair way to eat his own words over the invasion of Finland — just as Adolf Hitler had to after invading Poland.

For in his thin little volume, "Marxism and the National and Colonial Question," which is the Russian "bible" comparable to Hitler's "Mein Kampf," Stalin lays down this major premise of Soviet policy:

"The October revolution of 1917 succeeded because the Communist leaders insisted on the right of all nations to determine their own destinies. If Russia ever should change from this course, the Soviet system would break down."

The attack on Finland represents such a change.

Stalin makes this double clear by emphasizing, all through his writings, the importance of Finnish independence as a symbol of the workability of the Soviet scheme of government.

Had they not been willing to grant Finland her freedom at the time of the revolution, he says at one point, "the Russian workers would not have been able to win the sympathy and confidence necessary to their success. Again, he warns against any pressure that would "forfeit the confidence" of the Finns.

'Out' Already Exhausted.

These words sound strange today, with Russia forcibly trying to exact Finnish permission for Russian use of Finnish land for military purposes. The one "out" that Stalin allowed himself in a case like this has already been exhausted.

"It should be borne in mind," he wrote, "that besides the right of nations to self-determination there is also the right of the working class to consolidate its power, and to this latter right the right of self-determination is subordinate."

Had any segment of the Finnish nation revolted and gone over to the puppet government Russia set up for Finland at the opening of the war, this argument could be used as a defense of the Russian invasion. But the puppet government has been a distinct failure.

And since the war in that country began, word has come not only from Persia but Turkey, Afghanistan and India of discontent and distrust over where Russia may move next.

Stalin feared more than a mere loss of confidence on the part of these neighbors. The threat of war was in the back of his mind, more than once he presented the theme:

"Of the 140,000,000 people (in the Soviet republics) . . . the great Russians do not comprise more than 75,000,000. The remaining 65,000,000 consist of nationalities other than Great-Russians."

Illinois courtrooms, for psychological reasons, since women began serving on the state's juries, according to the Chicago Bar Record.

Several months ago, the Illinois supreme court re-interpreted the state constitution to permit women jurors, and now most important juries include some women, frequently a majority of ladies. The official publication of the lawyers' association stated:

"Smart lawyers are changing their tactics to suit the new (lady) jurors. Corporation attorneys and insurance company lawyers long have wooed juries by appearing in court in humble mein, frayed collars, worn-out shirts and worn-down shoes. But no more!"

Emmet Byrne, a veteran criminal lawyer, agreed:

"That's true. The old-school lawyer with baggy trousers, decrepit clothes and egg on his vest is a thing of the past. Slovenliness offends women."

William Scott Stewart, another criminal lawyer, declared that women make good, dispassionate jurors, and added:

"Women detect sham and fraud quickly. Dressing up just especially for them might arouse suspicion."

LESSON FOR WORLD

NEW YORK.—And speaking of war, Frederick E. Crane, former chief justice of the state court of appeals, wants to know: "If 8,000,000 in New York City, of all nations and creeds can live happily and peacefully together and say or write what they please, why cannot others do it too?"

PICTURES FEAR OF 'AIRPOWER'

Institute Lecturer Says Threat of Military Aviation Major Force in World Today.

000. Now the same amount of damage could be done in about four hours by less than 10 per cent of Germany's air force.

He said it had also been estimated that 200 direct hits with bombs could wholly cripple U. S. industry in the "northern triangle" in which Mansfield is situated.

The only known defenses against air attack, Cook listed as anti-aircraft batteries, pursuit planes, and retaliatory attack.

"It is fear of this retaliatory attack which has prevented the bombing, to date, of London and Paris and even plainly exposed munitions plants just over the lines on both sides of the western front," Cook insisted.

Both sides fear what bombs may do, and it was this fear which caused Chamberlain to sign the Munich agreement, Cook believes.

"I do not blame Chamberlain for signing that pact," he stated.

The speaker listed Germany as ranking first in air power—developed, he said, between 1935 when the nation "threw off the yoke of Versailles" and 1938. Next in order of air strength he listed Great Britain, Russia, Italy and France.

"The United States," he said, "is on its way to having one of the most efficient air forces in the world."

In the U. S. production of planes has been doubled in the past year, Cook added. Eighteen 300-mile-per-hour planes can now be built at the cost of one ocean liner; and sub-sonic flights may be expected as the next development, with flights of this type soon to be started between Miami, Fla., and Buenos Aires.

During the question and answer forum at the conclusion of the lecture, Cook declared that the U. S. has better pilots than any other nation in the world because more attention is given to their training here. He said, too, he thought it might return to use in peacetime.

The speaker was introduced by William J. Russell, member of the board of directors of the Rotary club who also opened the forum discussion.

The Institute of International Understanding concludes next Monday with a lecture at the high school auditorium by Benjamin Geriz, author and former League of Nations publication editor.

LEAVES JAIL

Woman Who Stabbed in 'Self Defense' Released.

While funeral arrangements were being completed for Lester Bowerman, 41, colored, who was fatally stabbed in his home in Mansfield Saturday night, his wife Mrs. Hattie Bowerman, 33, who confessed the stabbing, was released late yesterday from the county jail.

She was freed by Prosecutor G. W. Marriott after county authorities decided that she stabbed Bowerman in self defense. Mrs. Bowerman had been held in jail since the fatal stabbing at the couple's home on Bowman street just outside the city limits.

Sheriff E. P. Long said the woman was suffering from a congested throat, indicating that she had been choked before the stabbing.

Funeral services for Bowerman will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Mt. Harmon Baptist church on Henry avenue. Rev. David Thomas, pastor, will officiate. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

EAR FOR RADIO

ST. LOUIS —(INS)— The average 11-year-old spends about one half as much time listening to the radio as he spends in school, according to a survey made by Dr. John P. McKay, principal of West Richmond Heights school. Broadcasts most popular with children, McKay found, are action dramas, variety shows including comedy, music and audience participation programs. About 83 per cent of the programs they listen to are not regular broadcasts for children, his survey showed.

SCHOOL OFFICER TO TALK TO CLUB

Problem of Modern Attendance Official to be Discussed.

The problems of the modern school attendance officer will be outlined for members of the Gyro club at their bi-weekly meeting at the Mansfield-Leland hotel tomorrow night, when John H. Eisaman, probation and attendance officer, speaks.

This noon, Gyro members met with Rotary, Kiwanis and other clubs at luncheon at the hotel and heard a short talk by Homer L. Chailloux, Americanism director of the American Legion, who speaks at the Madison theater tonight, under the sponsorship of McVey post, American Legion.

'Haunted' By Her Two Dead Children

"Every time you look into a dark corner I will haunt you with the two children," wrote Joseph Kaufelski, a WPA worker, to his wife, Helen (left). Then he killed himself and the two children (right), Thomas, 4, and Lorraine, 18 months, with gas, in the kitchen of their Philadelphia home. Mrs. Kaufelski had gone home to her mother after a quarrel.

TEA TOPERS

Barbaric Eskimos Along Yukon Rank It Favorite Drink.

NOME, Alaska.—(AP)—Eskimos, particularly the 3,000 primitives at the mouth of the Yukon, are heavy tea drinkers. Tea tops the list of commodities they call for when traders make the rounds each fall.

R. M. (Bus) Boyd, a trader, reported that after tea in the list of winter staples come flour, sugar, heavy clothing and firearms.

Trade with the Eskimos is still mainly on a barter basis, although trading checks ranging in value from 25 cents to $5 are also in use. The Eskimos buy almost no canned goods.

Boyd said the natives on the lower Yukon are among the most primitive in Alaska.

HERDERS END ISOLATION

SUGAR CITY, Ida.—(U.P.)—Eph Ricks, with 47 years of sheep chasing and herding back of him, fully approves of the present tendency of sheep herders to carry portable radio sets with them. "I'm all for it," he declared. "Keeps 'em civilized, and they don't lose track of things and get lonely like they used to."

WEATHER CLOCK

PHILADELPHIA —(INS)— For eight years Mrs. Joseph Kruehman has been able to predict a change of season by looking at the finish of her mahogany clock. Every three months the clock's color would change from light to dark or vice versa. Recently an antique dealer revealed that it was the mercury in the wood that causes the clock to change with light and heat conditions.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 PINTS A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Kidneys remove excess acids and poisonous waste from your blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Duan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Duan's Pills.

Begins Tomorrow 9:15 A.M. OHIO THEATER

3 BIG DAYS

Here is the attractive modern all-gas kitchen which forms the stage setting for all programs of the 1940 Gasco Food Institute. It contains all up-to-the minute improvements in kitchen arrangement and equipment.

Newest modes in cooking . . . up-to-the-minute improvements in kitchen equipment . . . novel menu ideas . . . entertaining drama—these and many other highlights will be presented to Mansfield homemakers in the 1940 edition of the Gasco Food Institute. Three programs—one each day beginning tomorrow—will cover every phase of modern food preparation. An experienced food lecturer assisted by the local home service representative of The Gas Company and a Food Institute Manager will be in charge of each program. Again this outstanding food event is made possible through the cooperation of The News-Journal, The Gas Company and other enterprising Mansfield merchants. We are certain you'll want to attend every program.

Entertaining drama enlivens each program of the 1940 Gasco Food Institute. Above is a scene from the second day's presentation.

PLANS DRIVE

C. of C. Committee to Meet on Spring Clean-up Campaign.

Plans for conducting the annual spring clean-up campaign will be formulated Wednesday evening by the fire prevention committee of the Chamber of Commerce which is scheduled to meet in the assembly rooms, it was announced today by John G. Rounton, secretary-manager of the chamber.

The committee headed by Herbert R. Slough will discuss an intensified program of clean-up, paint-up, plant-up and fix-up in connection with the city-wide drive to eliminate fire and health hazards, Rounton said.

They plan to seek the co-operation of the city administration in designating a clean-up schedule and to furnish city trucks to cover the city's six wards for the collection of the winter's accumulation of rubbish.

TOPS RICHLAND SENIORS IN TEST

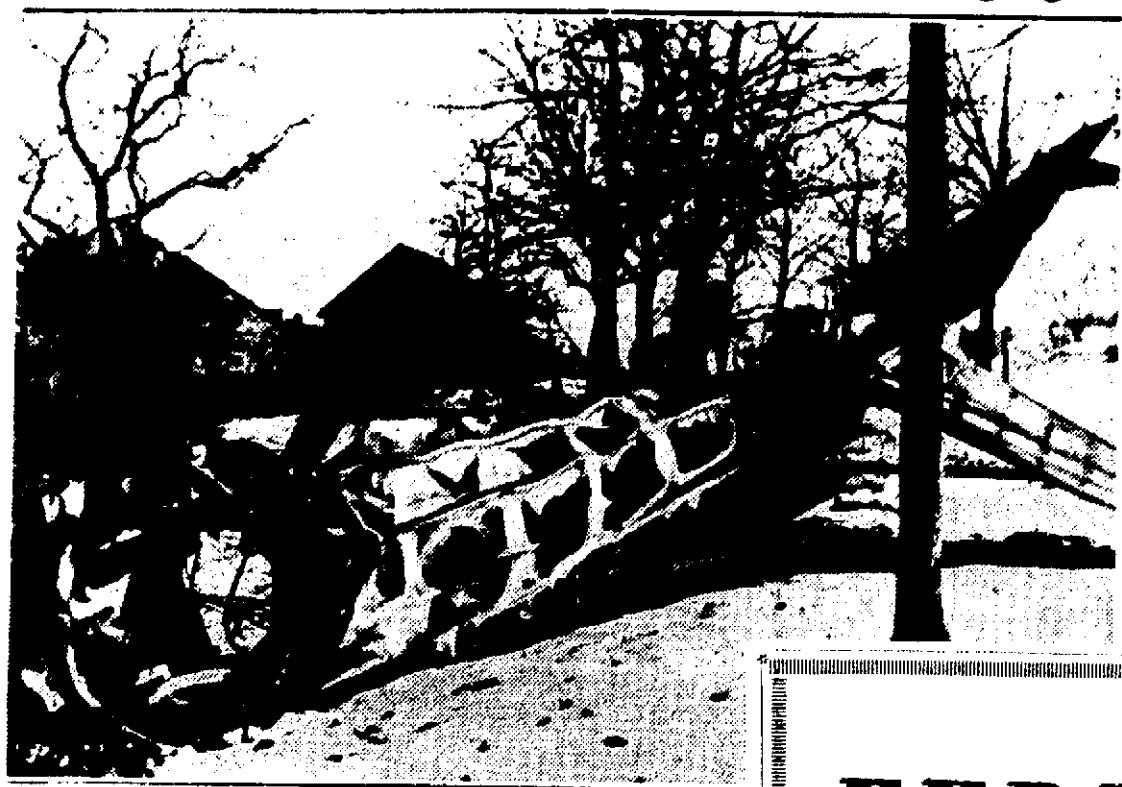

Madison Township Girl Scores 114 Out Of 150 In D. A. R. Exam.

Gladys Perry, Madison township high school senior, topped two other seniors from the Mansfield district in a recent citizenship test conducted by the D. A. R., a report of the standings showed today.

She made a grade of 114 out of a possible 150. The highest in the state was 137.2. The state winner will receive a free trip to Washington, D. C.

Stomach Ulcer Pains?

How to Forget Them

An important discovery for stomach ulcer pains caused by excess acid is the use of bismuth. It coats the lining of the stomach on the sensitive parts, thus preventing the irritating action of digestive secretions and foods. Udgas Tablets contain bismuth and other valuable ingredients in a balanced formula. They have been praised by thousands. I work my cars hard, so I shopped the entire field before I bought my 1940 Packard. In 4 months I've run up 18,017 miles—spent only $1.35 for mechanical upkeep. I get a real kick out of the pick-up and performance of my 1940 Packard because it's so thrifty—as cheap to run as smaller cars I've owned.

ON EVERY COUNT—PACKARD'S THRIFTY

MORE CAR FOR YOUR MONEY—to begin with... and thrifty to own for thousands upon thousands of miles. Marked buyer approval—followed by complete owner satisfaction—explains why Packard, of all motor car manufacturers, has the latest-growing family of owners in America!

Compare the 1940 Packard with any other car. See if it doesn't surpass it in performance... roominess... comfort and looks. And let the table below show you that even a big, roomy car like Packard can be serviced almost as cheaply as much smaller cars. See Packard at your dealer's, today.

COMPARISON OF SERVICE CHARGES

Type of Service Operation	Packard	Average Charge
Service brakes, adjust complete	$2.50	$2.44
Re-line and adjust brakes	13.65	12.81
Clean and adjust carburetor	2.40	2.43
Tune engine	4.75	4.07
Piston rings—re-new all	23.65	24.12
Valves and valve job	13.00	13.98
Front wheel toe-in, check and adjust	1.25	1.02
Clutch, pedal clearance, adjust	.50	.52
Fan belt, tension	1.00	1.15

SPECIAL NOTE: These prices are taken from an impartial, realistic manual used by motor car dealers. Being average costs, they may be somewhat higher or lower in some cities because of local conditions, but they do illustrate the small difference in workshop expense between Packard and much smaller cars.
